

Visit Nashville, Indiana in the fall

Join us on this one-day trip to the rolling hills of Brown County during the most colorful time of the year. We will tour the T.C. Steele State Historical Site with the last home and studio of Indiana landscape painter Theodore Clement Steele, the man who developed Brown County into the “Art Colony of the Midwest.” Then we head into “little” Nashville with over 200 unique stores to browse and over 41 different restaurants.

Be sure to visit the Brown County Craft Gallery, enjoy over 30 local and artisans creating and showing their unique talents, and pick up some early Christmas gifts!

Dinner will be at the historic Brown County Inn before heading home after an enjoyable day of Hoosier hospitality. Min/Max: 30/50
